

RESEARCH COORDINATOR

(Payclass 09; 5- Year Contract)

AFRICA CMM UNIT FOR MEDICAL MYCOLOGY RESEARCH (IDM)
DEPARTMENT OF PATHOLOGY
FACULTY OF HEALTH SCIENCES

The MRC Centre for Medical Mycology at the University of Exeter (MRC CMM) is one of the largest centers studying medically important fungi in the world and is the largest specialist research unit at the University of Exeter (UoE). The MRC CMM aims to facilitate research and training, particularly in those areas of the world where fungal infections cause a huge burden on human health. To achieve this, the MRC CMM has established a partnership with the University of Cape Town (UCT) to maintain a jointly run unit in medical mycology, the AFRICA CMM Unit for Medical Mycology Research that is based within the Institute of Infectious Disease and Molecular Medicine at UCT. To help achieve the goals of the AFRICA Unit, we are looking for a dynamic and experienced Research Coordinator, based at UCT, who will ensure delivery of the Unit's aims.
